

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

ABOUT	Alrededor, por aquí cerca. Parecido a around pero about es más de tiempo.
To bring	about	Provocar, ocasionar	It brought about horrific consequences when he came into power.
To come	about	Suceder	How did your love come about? Our love came about because it was destiny.
To mess	about	Perder el tiempo, haraganear	Stop messing about and do your homework!
ACROSS	A través. Por casualidad (no sido una aproximación directa. De un lado a otro, de forma completa.
To come	across	Encontrarse con	Tom came across Jill when he was at the concert. I will let you know if I come across the glasses that you lost.
To go	across	Cruzar	You need to go across the bridge if you want to enter the city.
AFTER	Después de, en tiempo o espacio. Idea de perseguir, de estar fijado o en conexión con lo que se sigue.
To go	after	Perseguir, ir tras algo	The cat went after the bird but it flew away.
To look	after	Cuidar	Carol will look after the kids when we go out.
To take	after	Salir a	More and more, she takes after her mother.
AHEAD	Al frente, hacia donde apunta tu cabeza. En la dirección del tiempo.
To go	ahead	Seguir adelante, avanzar	You should just go ahead without me because I have to finish up my work first.
To get	ahead of oneself	Pensar en el futuro olvidando las necesidades del presente; adelantarse al expresar algo; hacerse una idea prematuramente	Montgomerie suspected he was getting ahead of himself. 'I think I am thinking about next week too much,' he said.
To look	ahead	Mirar al frente, mirar hacia el futuro	You should forget the past and look ahead. He will need to look ahead a few years if he wants to make solid and realistic plans for his business.
ALONG	A lo largo de, en paralelo. Idea de estar juntos en condiciones de igualdad.
To bring	along	Llevar contigo	I thought I would bring along my sketch book on the trip since the place has beautiful landscapes.
To go	along	Avanzar, ir de camino	I'll tell you as we go along
To tag	along	Colarse. Acoplarse Seguir a todas partes	He always wants to tag along; I don't know how to get rid of him.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To go	along with	Acompañar, ver las cosas de la misma manera	You should not go along with Jim if you believe that he is incorrect. We don't go along with that.
AROUND	Alrededor y cerca. Parecido a about pero around es más de lugar.
To come	around	Recobrar el conocimiento	It took Alonso a while to come around.
To hang	around	Juntarse, Frecuentar	She's always hanging around that gothic crowd of people.
To shop	around	Comparar precios	Shop around before you buy your laptop, you may find it at a better price.
To call	around	Hacer una visita	You must call round when you pass through here on your next trip.
To look	around	Echar un vistazo alrededor	Feel free to have a look round my new place.
To turn	around	Darse la vuelta	Jill turned round to find that Jim was waiting for her with a bouquet of flowers.
To get	around (someone around to)	Convencer para hacer algo	He will get the voters around to vote for him.
To bring	around (someone around)	Convencer	It took me time to bring him around to my point of view.
To get	around	Dar toda la vuelta, regresar Sortear un obstáculo Circular un rumor	I don't want this to get around so please keep it to yourself. We need to get round some things before we can continue.
To go	around	Dar vueltas Moverse por ahí Haber para todos Dar la vuelta Recorrer un sitio Patrullar Sortear, orillar (mejor con round)	You need to go round the dog if you want to get in. We are so bored! All day long just going around Go around the office with your eyes wide open and then report what you have seen back to me Do you think that two litres of orange juice will go around for all of us?
AT	At es in pero con intensidad. Es más abstracto que in. Es más de un lugar mental que físico.
To get	at	Meterse con alguien, abusar de Ir al grano	I wish you would just get at it instead of going in circles. His wife is always getting at him for arriving late.
To go	at	Arremeter, atacar	The dog went at its meal like it hadn't eaten for days.
To keep	at	Perseverar	I know Spanish is hard, but you just have to keep at it to pass your exam.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

AWAY
Lejos, separado de uno. Separar + alejar. Sacar fuera de control o alcance. Más físico que mental.
To break	away	Separarse, desprenderse	I really needed to break away from my mother. We did not have a good relationship.
To fritter	away	Desperdiciar	She frittered away her inheritance.
To get	away	Irse Escaparse	I really need to get away, I need a holiday.
To go	away	Desaparecer Marcharse	I will go away and never come back.
To keep	away	Mantener a distancia	Please keep away the cat. I am allergic.
To pass	away	Fallecer	Helen's father passed away this last Sunday.
To put	away	Ordenar, guardar	Tom is always being told by his mother to put away his toys.
To tear	away	Apartar de alguien o algo	It was so hard for me to tear myself away from him when we were saying goodbye.
To throw	away	Tirar a la basura	I had to throw away a lot of books when I moved because no one wanted them.
To whittle	away	Reducir	His fortune was whittling away as he spent huge amounts of his money.
To give	away (something somebody away)	Regalar Chivarse, irse de la lengua. Delatar.	Don't give the secret away! With that word you have given yourself away Let's run! Someone is given sweets away
To stay	away from	Mantenerse lejos de, ni acercarse	You must stay away from Pam; she is not a good influence.
To do	away with	Acabar con algo Abolir	We wanted to do away with slavery, but we were unable to and had to go to war.
To get	away with	Librarse, salirse de rositas	He always gets away with cheating on tests.
BACK
Retornar al punto de partida, al origen (distinto a cuando Back es el verbo). Empujar más allá.
To call	back	Devolver la llamada	I need a call back just to make sure you received my message.
To get	back	Recuperar Volver Retroceder	When will you get back? Sam could not stay longer for lunch because he needed to get back to work.
To go	back	Retroceder Regresar	Sam needs to go back before they close the shops.
To hark	back	Recordar algo a alguien repetidamente. Rayar.	She is always harking back on when she was a dancer in the ballet.
To keep	back	Mantener a raya	We kept the fierce dog back with a stick
To put	back	Postponer Echar para atrás	The start date has been put back to December instead of October. Just the smell put me back so I didn't bother to try it

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To turn	back	Regresar	Sara could not bring herself to leave so she turned back.
To get	back at somebody	Vengarse	He got back at Jim for throwing his books on the ground.
To fall	back on	Apoyarse Reclinarse Tener respaldo Recurrir	At least I have a little bit of savings to fall back on if there is a problem. Frank can always fall back on his sister for support.
To go	back on	Echarse atrás sobre algo. Rajarse.	He went back on his word and decided to go to the game without his friend Bob.
To look	back on	Echar la vista atrás	I love to look back on everything we have achieved until now.
To answer	back to	Contestar, replicar mala manera	You shouldn't answer back to your parents
To go	back to	Regresar Venir desde (tiempo). Datar de.	We will go back to where we were born. This feud goes back to the XIX century.
BEFORE	Antes de en tiempo. Con preferencia a. Ante (significado antiguo de before)
To go/come	before	Preceder Someterse a la consideración de Presentarse ante Comparecer ante	On the 24th of May he will go before the judge for his crimes. A bill will go before Parliament. Two goes before three. Looking out for your family should come before making money.
To kneel	before	Arrodillarse ante algo o alguien en señal de adoración	Kneel before you Queen! (if you kneel opposite your Queen you may be just tying your laces.)
To put	before	Dar preferencia, considerar más importante	I'd never put your brother before you.
BEHIND	Atrás, rezagado. No tiene la idea de seguir, sino al contrario. Es un away que solo mira hacia atrás.
To stay	behind	Quedarse atrás (también figurado)	Private Timmons will stay behind as the rest of his squad enters battle.
To drop	behind	Repentinamente hacerlo peor que otros. Quedarse atrás muy rápidamente.	After the divorce or he parents she dropped behind at school.
To hang	behind	Demorarse. Quedarse en un sitio deliberadamente cuando ya ha llegado el momento de irse	When everybody had left, the detective hung around the house to look for clues.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

BY
Moverse junto a un elemento que se queda quieto. Moverse según determina otro elemento
To get	by	Arreglarselas	We can't get by on such a small amount of money.
To drop	by	Visitar espontaneamente	I dropped by on Thursday, but you were out.
To brush	by	Pasar junto a otra persona, rozándola, pero ignorándola	The production manager brushed by me on the stairs. He seemed to be in a real hurry.
To pass	by	Pasar junto al algo sin detenerse, ignorar. Pasar el tiempo	I noticed my wife pass by with a bag of shopping. I had the distinct worry that happiness would pass me by. Nearly a year has passed by since I first laid eyes on him.
To go	by	Lo mismo que To pass by Usar como nombre To be called, to use as a name. Seguir las instrucciones	I like to sit and watch the world go by. The rest of the day went by quickly. His full name is Ernest Tinkleton, but he goes by Ernie. I'm only going by what my teacher said. A good rule to go by
DOWN
Abajo, inferior, queda abajo, se reduce, se derrumba
To climb	down	Bajar, descender (escalando) Dimitir, abdicar	He decided it was best for him to climb down from the position since he was unable to fulfil his duties.
To close	down	Clausurar, echar el cierre	Unable to cope with the Chinese competence, the factory had to close down
To cut	down	Talar	We need an axe to cut this tree down.
To die	down	Extinguirse, desvanecerse rumores, enfados, clamores, fuego	The line-up usually dies down after lunch. The fighting died down once the police came.
To go	down	Bajar, descender Pasar la comida al tragar Well/badly caer bien/mal	If you go down this street on the left you should find the Brown Café. Rosa's speech went down well.
To gulp	down	Tragar rápidamente, engullir	The mother scolded the child for gulping down the milk.
To keep	down	Mantener reducido, contener Permanecer agachado	Please keep down the music, the children are asleep.
To knock	down	Derribar, Rebajar (precio)	They knocked down the old building to build the skyscraper. She really wanted to go to the mall because they had knocked down all the prices of the stores.
To let	down	Soltar Decepcionar Dejar colgado	He was so let down by Sally. As she turned, she let down her long hair. He promised to help me out but finally he let me down.
To play	down	Minimizar	Sally wanted to play down how serious the situation really was.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To simmer	down	Calmarse Reducirse por la cocción	You really need to simmer down, you won't get anywhere being angry.
To touch	down	Aterrizar	The plane touched down in LA an hour late.
To turn	down	Rechazar Bajar volumen	Can you please turn it down, I can't hear myself think. My project was turned down.
To break	down (into)	Romperse Derrumbarse psicológicamente Averirse Desglosar cifras	After her husband's death she could not take it anymore and just broke down. I will break down the total amount into the individual sums for each invoice.
To bolt	down (meal/food down)	Acabar rápido una comida	He bolted his breakfast down because was going to miss the bus to work.
To get	down (someone down)	Deprimir	Sara got me down after she told me her friend has cancer.
To cut	down on	Reducir	I really need to cut down on coffee, I drink too much.
To crack	down on	Adoptar medidas severas contra algo	The police decided to crack down on people who chose to drink and drive.
To look	down on	Menospreciar Despreciar	You should not look down on your fellow co-workers just because you are the boss. Who is he to look down on us, he is no better!
To run	down somebody	Criticar, menospreciar	Those who run me down behind my back, are watching my ass (attributed to Churchill) .
To boil	down to	Reducirse por cocción Todo se reduce a	The problem with vegetables is that they boil down to almost nothing. What it really boils down to is if there is enough money to go on a holiday.
To get	down to	Ponerse a la tarea	We need to get down to work.
To come	down with	Caer enfermo con	Paul is absent today because he has come down with the flu.
FOR	Intenta alcanzar algo o alguien. Busca un objetivo
To call	for	Solicitar, pedir, requerir	The public called for the president's resignation after he was caught in dirty dealings.
To go	for	Optar por, preferir Intentar	I could really go for a Volvo. I will go for the gold medal
To look	for	Buscar	Do you need help to look for your keys?
To stand	for	Sustituir Reemplazar Querer decir. Significar Representar Apoyar, defender	The play's actor became ill so Jim stood in for him since he knows his lines. What does UN stand for? I will stand for my woman. A dove stands for peace.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

FORWARD
Hacia adelante, hacia el frente con origen en ti
To go	forward	Avanzar, dar el paso	Our plans are going to go forward even if there is bad weather.
To put	forward	Presentar, proponer	Sam put forward a proposal to the board to elect a new director.
To flash	forward	Tener una repentina y breve visión del futuro	His dream flashed forward to an incident in grade school.
To look	forward to	Esperar con ganas, desear que suceda	Now, on Friday noon, I am to become a private citizen. I am proud to do so. I look forward to it.
IN
En, dentro de. Con menos transición que into. Tiene una idea de base, de home, de punto de partida, de permanencia
To break	in	Forzar la entrada Domar, amansar Interrumpir Amoldar zapatos a tu pie	You just have to wear your new shoes until you break them in. I had to break in my own house because I had lost my keys.
To bring	in	Hacer traer Sacar un tema Introducir (un ley)	The job brings in two thousand dollars a month. They've just brought in a new law making it illegal for someone to spit on the ground.
To buy	in	Aprovisionarse	They bought in enough food to last all winter.
To call	in	Llamar (generalmente por teléfono)	He wasn't feeling very well so he called in sick to work (called to announce that he was sick).
To deal	in	Tratar con una mercancía	The shop deals in local art.
To dig	in	Hincar el diente Atrincherarse	Help yourself! Dig in! Dug in troops are difficult to dislodge
To draw	in	Hacerse más cortos (horas de luz) Atraer, Retraer	The days are drawing in and it is already dark at 4 pm. Their look draws in attention. A cat can draw its paws in.
To fit	in	Encajar	The doctor can probably fit you in next Monday morning.
To get	in	Traer Llegar	You get the food in and I'll buy the wine. Her plane gets in at 2 am in the morning.
To hand	in	Entregar	We need to hand in the project this Friday.
To keep	in	Retener	Keep in the cat because it risks getting hurt outside.
To stay	in	Quedarse dentro	I was too tired to go out so I decided to stay in.
To trade	in	Dar algo como pago de	I'm going to trade in my old car for a new one.
To tuck	in	Remeter, Arropar	You need to tuck in your shirt, it's hanging out. My mother always tucked me in bed when I would go to bed.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To turn	in	Recogerse. Irse a la cama	My mother was so tired that she turned in early last night.
To come	in for	Recibir, ganarse	I really don't understand how you came in for all that criticism.
To go	in for	Tomar parte. Presentarse a	I will go in for the maths exam.
To put	in for	Apuntarse para algo	I am going to put in for square dancing at the gym.
To call	in on	Visitar (UK informal)	Call in on your mother. She is so lonely.
To drop	in on	Visitar	On Tuesday we want to drop in on our friends from Ireland.
To sit	in on	Asistir a	When I lived in Paris I would sit in on the free concerts in the cathedral.
To listen	in on other people's conversation	Escuchar una conversación ajena	Be careful when you talk near Sally, she listens in on our conversations.
To cash	in on something	Sacar beneficio de algo	He was able to cash in on the recent stock market plunge.
To turn	in somebody	Entregar	The robber was turned in to the local police station.
To call	in someone/something	Hacer venir a alguien Encargar algo	Please, call the witness in. I will call in a Four Cheeses pizza. Call them in.
To tune	in to	Sintonizar	Every Sunday I tune in to the BBC comedy hour.
To fall	in with	Aceptar los planes de otra persona. Estar de acuerdo	John fell in with Tom, who had been in prison.
To get	in with	Congraciarse con Empezar a ir con	She always gets in with the popular crowd at school.
INTO	En, dentro de. Con transición. Estás in pero empezaste out. Acabas en un sitio o forma distinto a como empezaste.
To break	into	Entrar a robar. Ponerse a.	He was arrested for breaking into the city bank. She broke into laughter.
To buy	into	Comprar acciones	I am going to buy in Repsol.
To come	into	Hacerse con Venir a cuento	I haven't seen him since he came into all that money. How does this come into?
To dip	into	Echar mano a, tirar de (ahorros, reservas, recuerdos)	I don't want to dip into my savings to pay my bills.
To give	into	Dejarse llevar. Ceder a la tentación	Don't give into the temptation of eating all chocolate cake.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To go	into	Meterse en, entrar	Sally needs to go into the supermarket for some milk.
To look	into	Investigar	We need to look into buying a new car because the one we have now is old.
To run	into	Encontrarse con alguien, chocarse	Yesterday, Sue ran into my brother at the petrol station.
To turn	into	Transformar	At every full moon the man will turn into a werewolf.
LIKE		Como, parecido a.
To feel	like	Apetecer	I feel like eating Chinese today.
To look	like	Parecerse	It looks like jelly
OFF		Fuera de. Separado de. Más mental que físico. Llegar a 0. Soltarse, dejar de estar retenido.
To trade	off	Compensar, intercambiar	A longer working week was traded off for a pay rise.
To break	off	Romper, partir, Desprenderse	I had to break off my engagement to Tom because I realized that I would not be happy with him.
To buy	off	Sobornar	He bought off the prison guard so he could be set free.
To call	off	Cancelar	The party was called off because Tom's father had passed away.
To cast	off	Soltar amarras. Abandonar. Ponerse en camino	The ship cast off to sail in tropical waters. The poor man was cast off into the desert on his own and without any provisions.
To cut	off	Cercenar Dejar aislado	You always cut me off when I try to talk. Due to the flood, our village is cut off.
To doze	off	Quedarse dormido	Every time I put the news George dozes off.
To drop	off	Dejar alguien con tu coche Dormirse	I couldn't help dropping off at the cinema, the movie was too boring. He can drop you off in front of the shop.
To ease	off	Disminuir el ritmo	You need to ease off the drinks, especially because you are going to drive.
To finish	off	Terminar completamente	Sam finished off all the chocolates that he had received for his birthday.
To get	off	Salir absuelto Quitarte de encima	He got off free from the charges on a mistake from the judge. Get off my way!
To give	off	Desprender, emitir	As the woman walked by she gave off a sweet fragrance.
To go	off	Explotar, dispararse Sonar, saltar (alarma) Irse Estropearse comida	You can't even talk to him; he just goes off in an attack of anger. Be careful! The weapon is loaded and it can go off Attending to the stench of this cheese I can ascertain that it went off days ago
To keep	off	No dejar que se meta, entre	The sign said to keep off the grass.
To lay	off	Despedir. Dejar de.	Lay off rolling up cigarettes!
To let	off	Dejar irse. Salir	He was let off due to lack of evidence.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

		Soltar un detenido
To nod	off	Quedarse dormido	He did not finish watching the film because he nodded off in the middle of it.
To put	off	Aplazar, posponer Echar para atrás, desilusionarse	He's always putting me off and never answers my questions. Ever since I was sick from eating the bad strawberries I have been put off from eating the fruit.
To send	off	Mandar por algo por correo Una despedida (sustantivo) Expulsar	Before they set sail on their cruise, I gave them a send-off to remember. The player received his third red card and was sent off the field.
To set	off	Desencadenar Ponerse en camino	The riot was set off by professional agitators. At three sharp we set off.
To show	off	Presumir, jactarse	The child was so happy with her new shoes that she showed them off to every passer-by on the street.
To shrug	off	Encogerse de hombros. Desembarazarse de una carga.	He shrugged off the comments of his opponent and carried on.
To spark	off	Desencadenar. Ser la chispa desencadenante	The arrest of Jim sparked off riots in the centre of town.
To take	off	Despegar Despojarse	A plane for UK is about to take off. Please, take off your muddy boots.
To tick	off something	Marcar	You must tick off the correct answers in the test.
To tick	someone off	Enojar Reñir	You always seem to tick me off when you speak about Sally.
ON	Encima de, en contacto con. Permanencia sobre algo. Alcanzar algo hasta tocarlo. No desprenderte. A veces funciona como un At.
To cut	on	Reducir	As the power is so expensive now, we will have to cut on lighting.
To bring	on	Mandar traer (expression)	I am so eager to start this new job, just bring it on. The boy said, 'Bring it on!', as he lifted his fists in provocation.
To call	on	Hacer una visita Apelar a	I will call on you to speak in the House of Lords. Sue is going to call on her sister next Friday.
To count	on	Contar con	You can count on me; I will always be here for you.
To dawn	on	Darse cuenta.	It suddenly dawned on him where he had left his glasses.
To drag	on	Alargarse, hacerse pesadísimo	The film was so boring, it just dragged on forever.
To dwell	on	Dar vueltas sobre una tema: pensando en ello o	He just does not know how to leave it alone and just keeps dwelling on the same subject.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

		hablando
To get	on	Montarse en un transporte público	We need to get on a city bus to get to the cinema.
To go	on	Continuar Avanzar	Life just goes on and doesn't wait for you to adjust.
To hang	On	Ir del brazo de alguien Depender Permanecer a la espera en el teléfono No perder palabra de algo Aguantar	You have to hang on, things will change soon. Hang on just a minute, I'll be right back. The students were hanging on every word of the description of the next course. Hang on. Help is on its way. The whole experiment hangs on this step.
To hold	on	Esperar, aguantar	Just hold on! Are you trying to tell me I can't go?
To keep	on	Insistir, no parar de, dar la tabarra con	Please try to keep on trying to contact Susan.
To put	on	Ponerse ropa	It's a bit cool out, I think I will put on a jacket.
To roll	on	Extender con rodillo. Meter rodando. Extenderse en el tiempo. ¡Que llegue!	Time keeps rolling on and stops for no one. The child rolled on the floor in a hissy fit. Roll on the summer!
To slip	on	Ponerse	I slipped on my coat as I rushed out the door to catch up with Frank.
To soldier	on	Continuar adelante, resisitir	Even though the subject is difficult I will soldier on.
To stay	on	Quedarse. Permanecer	Jim will stay on even after everyone has gone to tidy up the place.
To try	on	Probarse	I hate trying on clothing when I go shopping.
To tumble	on	Tropezar. Encontrarse por casualidad	When I was searching on the internet I tumbled on your blog.
To go	on at	Fastidiar. Dar la tabarra.	He went on at his parents until they bought him his computer game.
To get	on in	Avanzar, adelantar	I am getting on in English.
To hang	on to	Aferrarse a	The trade union chairperson is trying to hang on to her position.
To put	on weight	Engordar	I need to stop eating so many sweets because I'm putting on weight.
To hit	on/ upon	Dar con, atinar	It took us a long time to hit upon a solution.
OUT	Fuera de, en el exterior pero no lejos. Más físico que mental.
To bring	out	Lanzar un producto Revelar Sacar a la luz, descubrir	Sara brings out the best in him. The band will be bringing out a new single this month.
To call	out	Gritar	He called out her name as he remembered her on the cliff

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

			he was standing on.
To check	out	Pagar al dejar la habitación de un hotel, pagar tu compra	Sue finished grabbing her groceries so she went towards the checkout to pay. The taxi was waiting for us when we checked out of the hotel.
To come	out	Salir. Revelarse. Salir del armario.	At the shout of fire everybody came out. The details of the scandal came out on the front page of the newspaper.
To deal	out	Repartir naipes	The card dealer dealt the cards out with an ace up his sleeve.
To dig	out	Extraer, Encontrar. desenterrar	The last survivors of the earthquake were dug out. Searching in the family history she was able to dig out a lot of information.
To draw	out	Hacerse más largos (horas de luz) Sacar, desenfundar	The days are drawing out and it is still daylight at 8 pm.
To drop	out	Retirarse. Abandonar. Un fracasado escolar	Kim was a high school dropout. We will drop out of your life, never to return.
To find	out	Averiguar	You need to find out when you have your new classes.
To flake	out	Desplomarse por el cansancio. Caer rendido.	David worked so hard all evening so when he arrived home he flaked out.
To get	out	Irse Salir Sacar	You really need to get out more often, you work too much. That bag stinks, get it out!
To give	out	Distribuir, repartir Desprender, emitir	Every Christmas Frank gives out hot meals to the homeless.
To go	out	Salir	Celeste and Frank are going to go out every night this week.
To hand	out	Repartir, distribuir	Someone was handing out leaflets for a new restaurant.
To help	out	Echar una mano	I can always help you out if you need it.
To leak	out	Filtrarse noticias, información	The highly confidential information leaked out to the public.
To leave	out	Saltarse Excluir	She was not invited to the party and was left out. Please leave out the pickles from my hamburger.
To opt	out	Decidir no participar en algo	Jim decided to opt out of the political party because of his views.
To pass	out	Desmayarse	The soldier had not eaten anything so when he arrived to the base he passed out. I was so tired last night I just passed out on the coach.
To pick	Out Up	Escoger	Pick out two or three you would like to keep.
To pull	out	Sacar	He was pulled out of the elections.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

			The criminal pulled out a gun on the little old lady.
To put	out	Sacar Tirar a la basura	Before going to bed, please put out the cat. Let's put out the leftovers.
To rinse	out	Enjuagar y escupir	My mother always told me as a child that she would rinse out my mouth with soap for saying curse words.
To shell	out	Soltar dinero	He had to shell out a hundred pounds for the dinner with his in-laws.
To show	out	Acompañar a la puerta	She always shows out her guest to the door when she has a party.
To slip	out	Salir un momento, escaparse	He slipped out when the police guards were not looking. Jill will be right back, she just slipped out for a moment. At noon, the employees slip out one by one for a coffee.
To sound	out	Sondear a alguien. Tantear	You should sound her out to make certain she would like this as a gift.
To spin	out	Alargar, estirar (dinero, discurso, chiste, gracia, etc)	Some speakers have nothing to say, but they seem to be able to spin out their material.
To spurt	out	Salir a chorro	The water spurted out of the pipe.
To walk	out	Declararse en huelga, Marcharse indignado	The factory workers walked out on Monday morning. The play was so offensive that half the audience walked out of the theatre after twenty minutes.
To break	out in	Salirte algo	He broke out in a rash because he touched poison ivy when he went on his walk this morning.
To get	out of	Salirse de algo Salirse de un lío, situación Librarse	Every time we need to wash dishes, she gets out of it by disappearing.
To grow	out of	Pasársete, abandonar un hábito por hacerte mayor	Children are afraid of darkness but eventually grow out of it.
To wiggle	out of	Librarse de	That politician seems to wiggle out of any situation.
To lash	out on	Atacar o agredir a alguien	Please do not lash out on me, I did not disrespect you.
To walk	out on somebody	Abandonar a alguien. Dejar plantado.	Her husband walked out on her years ago.
To call	out to	Hacer un llamamiento	The singer did a call out to all her fans to come see her at the folk festival.
To fall	out with	Enfadarse con alguien, cortar	I had a fall out with my sister, so I decided not to speak to her anymore.
To go	out with	Salir con alguien	Jim is going out with Sue.
To rub	something out	Sacar frotando	I can't get the stain out even though I try to rub it out.
To spell	something out for	Explicar con detalles	Can you please spell it out for me, I really don't understand anything.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

	somebody
OVER	Por encima de. Desde aquí hasta allá. Movimiento de parábola.
To tide	over	Durante un recurso, cubrir una necesidad	The fifty pounds I have will have to tide me over until payday.
To boil	over	Derramarse un líquido por subir al hervir	Lower the heat or the milk will boil over.
To go	over	Repasar, revisar, dar una pasada, una lectura	The teacher told the class to go over the questions for the test. Please go over your exam before you give it in.
To hand	over	Pasar la responsabilidad a otro. Entregar (físico)	The police officer ordered the criminal to hand over his gun.
To look	over	Echar un vistazo	Peter will have to look over the contract to make sure everything is correct.
To skate	over	Pasar por alto. Evitar.	She didn't care what I said; she just skated over my advice.
To stay	over	Pasar la noche, quedarse a dormir	My daughter had friends to stay over so the house is a mess.
To turn	over	Pasar la página. Dar vueltas sobre uno mismo Asistencia, rotación, ingresos (sustantivo)	When I fry eggs, I always turn them over. I turned over and over in bed because I couldn't sleep. The company has a turnover of €30,000.
To bowl	somebody over	Hacer una impresión potente, dejar atónito	Sara was bowled over by how hard the exam was, even though she had studied.
THROUGH	A través de, en tres dimensiones. Llegar a otro lado
To fall	through	Irse por el sumidero, quedar en nada	The project fell through so we had to look for new possibilities.
To get	through	Abrirse paso Atravesar Pasar un examen, selección Sobrevivir Durar el dinero Aguantar, resistir, pasarlo	Paul has gotten through more difficult situations than this. We can get through the month with my pay cheque. I could spend hours just remembering all that we had gone through.
To get	through	Conseguir entrar en contacto, establecer comunicación	The telephone lines were down so I was surprised that I was able to get through.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To put	through	Poner en contacto, pasar la comunicación, Pasar por algo	It is a shame he put you through all this. The operator said, 'Just a moment please, I will put you through.'
To scrape	through	Aprobar por los pelos. Juntar decimales de todas partes hasta llegar al 5.	She had not studied but managed to scrape through the test.
TO	A
To keep	to	Ceñirse a, no salirse de	She was very quiet in school and just would keep to herself.
To lean	to	Inclinarse	The shed is not free-standing; it is a lean-to shed.
TOGETHER	Juntos
To bring	together	Reunir Reconciliar	She brings together all the qualities that he loves in a woman. He will bring together all his children when he comes to visit.
To get	together	Reunir, juntar	We're going to get together next Saturday for dinner.
UNDER	Debajo de, por debajo de. Sometido a
To knuckle	Under	Someterse, Bajar la cerviz	They would not knuckle under the pressure of the bombs.
UP	Arriba. Del todo, hasta arriba. Que surge. Muchas veces sólo un relleno para convertir en verbo una palabra que no lo es
To back	up	Respaldar	You need to back up your files in case your computer has a problem. Jim will back up Obama in the next elections.
To be tied	up	Estar liado	I can't answer the phone right now; I'm a bit tied up at the moment.
To break	up	Disolver Desarticular	Sally is feeling pretty sad because of her breakup with Donald.
To bring	up	Subir Educar, criar Cerrar la marcha	He was brought up by his grandmother since his mother was away working. The column marched with the cavalry bringing up the rear.
To buy	up	Acaparar	Tom bought up all the shares of Repsol that he could get his hands on.
To call	up	Llamar a filas	Dave was called up because of the draft of World War II.
To cheer	up	Animar	Let's go see Sara and cheer her up since she failed her driving test.
To clear	up	Despejar, despejarse Hacer limpieza de cosas Limpiar de enemigos	We really need to clear up any misunderstandings. Clear up the table so we can set it for dinner. Level 4: cleared up!

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To cough	up	Entregar. Apoquinar	Cough up the jewels you stole!
To cover	up	Cubrir, servir de tapadera	The whole scam was a cover up for the political party.
To crop	up	Surgir, brotar	They knew that that subject would crop up in the conversation.
To do	up	Atarse los zapatos Subir la cremallera Decorar la casa	They are going to do up the house for Halloween. Frank learned how to do up his shoe laces very young.
To double	up	Doblarse, Compartir habitación	He laughed so hard that he doubled up from the pain his laughter caused him. We had to double up because we hadn't booked enough rooms.
To dress	up	Disfrazarse	We want to dress up like bears for carnival.
To dry	up	Quedarse en blanco Secarse	He dried up at the press conference. During the summer, the pool dries up totally.
To end	up	Terminar	They still ended up together in the end of the novel. We still ended up going to Holland for our trip even though we had our doubts.
To fix	up	Arreglar (se) Quedar	I want to fix myself up for my date. He fixed up an appointment with the dentist.
To freshen	up	Refrescarse. Lavarse. Actualizar	I need to freshen up before I go out again.
To get	up	Ponerse en pie, levantarse	I like to get up early in the morning.
To give	up	Ceder, traspasar Abandonar, dejar Rendirse Dar por imposible (también con on)	George could not continue with the race, so he gave up and started to walk to the finish line. Bob gave up smoking years ago. The troops had to give up otherwise they would have been slaughtered.
To grow	up	Hacerse mayor	When I grow up, I want to be a singer.
To have your hands tied	up	No poder hacer nada. Tener las manos atadas.	Well, I really can't do much now; my hands are tied up because of my rent contract.
To hush	up	Encubrir, acallar Mandar a callar	The whole political scandal was hushed up to protect the minister's image. Don't tell me to hush up!
To look	up	Consultar	I had to look up the doctor's phone number.
To make	up	Maquillarse Inventarse una mentira	I never leave the house without makeup.
To pick	up	Recoger	Charles will pick me up after work.
To pile	up	Acumular	The dirty clothing is piling up; I'd better do the laundry.
To pin	up	Clavar con alfileres. Recoger con horquillas	The teacher pinned up our marks on the bulletin board. Her hair was neatly pinned up.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To pop	up	Aparecer inesperadamente	A pop-up advertisement appeared when I went on that site. She bought a pop-up book for her son about castles.
To seize	up	Agarrotarse	When he was running in the race his leg seized up and he couldn't continue.
To shape	up	Tomar forma Espabilar Enmendarse Ponerse las pilas	The new project is shaping up very nicely with that new team. Shape up or go away! Shape up, newbie!
To show	up	Aparecer, dejarse ver	Sally shows up even when she is not invited.
To sit	up	Sentarse derecho. incorporarse	Please sit up straight.
To size	up	Evaluar algo, tomar la medida	The first time I met my mother-in-law, she sized me up.
To slip	up	Cometer un error, un desliz	Tom really slipped up this time, I hope Kim will forgive him.
To snap	up	Pillar al vuelo. Agarrar antes de que se te escape.	That was a great bargain you snapped up. That tiny creature snaps up any morsel of food
To speak	up	Hablar más alto	You must always stand up for what you believe and speak out to defend them.
To split	up	Dividir. Separar.	The criminals split up the money they stole when they arrived in Brazil. Sally split up with Frank this past March.
To stay	up	Quedarse en vela Permanecer erguido, aguantar, resistir No caerse (pantalones, medias, calcetines, etc)	I decided to stay up all night until I finished my art project. My zip won't stay up. It's annoying. I can't find a way to make this thing stay up That concept doesn't stand up to scrutiny.
To toss	up	Echar a cara o cruz	You never know who the teacher will choose; it's always a toss-up.
To turn	up	Aparecer, presentarse Asistencia (sustantivo) Subir volumen	She loves to turn up the music when she dances. It wasn't a great turn up of people; I actually expected more public. Frank turned up out of the blue, she did not expect him.
Touch	up	Retocar, Manosear	She became angry when he tried to touch her up in the elevator. I want to touch up the paint and refresh the place a bit.
To patch	up (things up)	Arreglar cosas	After their huge argument, he bought flowers to patch things up with her.

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

To come	up against	Hacer frente, oponerse	He was the worst opponent that he had ever come up against.
To make	up for	Compensar	He took her out to dinner to make up for him forgetting their anniversary.
To stand	up for	Defender	You must always stand up for what you believe and speak out to defend them.
To stick	up for	Defender Dar la cara por	When Sally was criticising Frank, Celeste was the only one that stuck up for him.
To be	up on	Estar puesto en un tema	I'm not very up on recent politics.
To check	up on someone/ something	Comprobar, verificar	We better check up on the kids since they have been so quiet.
To come	up to	Estar a la altura de	The film didn't come up to my expectations.
To face	up to	Enfrentarse con algo	Aging people sometimes find it hard to face up to the fact that they are growing old. The soldier won the Medal of Bravery for facing up to the enemy alone.
To own	up to	Confesar. Admitir la responsabilidad	He owned up to his feelings and told her how he felt.
To look	up to somebody	Respetar, admirar	I look up to Frank because he is so knowledgeable.
To catch	up with	Alcanzar a alguien, Ponerse al corriente de	I caught up with Sara at the restaurant. I'm going home to catch up with my sleep.
To come	up with	Sugerir Proponer Tener una ocurrencia	Jim came up with the idea of eating at the new Italian place.
To keep	up with	Sostener, mantener Mantener el nivel Estar al día con las obligaciones Mantener el ritmo Estar al día No ser menos que	It is hard to keep up with Frank when he is running. Trying to keep up with technology is expensive Production should be stepped up to keep up with demand.
To link	up with	Unirse, conectar	You need to link up the hose with the fire hydrant.
To put	up with	Tolerar	You really don't have to put up with that garbage anymore!
To turn	your toes up	Estirar la pata (morirse)	Greedy old Ebenezer Scrooge finally turned his toes up.
To put	someone up	Dar alojamiento	Don't worry; I will put you up for the night.

Academia English On | Calle Venancio Tijero, 13 | 39610 Astillero | Cantabria | Spain

Tel: +34 699 10 15 82 | www.EnglishOn.es

f academiaenglishonastillero | academiaenglishon | @AcademiaEnglis2

Phrasal verbs con preposición explicada

WITH		Con, en compañía de
To deal	with	Tratar con, enfrentarse con o a, lidiar con	I hate dealing with people at the government office. She needs to deal with the death of her father.
To go	with	Acompañar Combinar	Frank is going to go with his daughter to the dentist. That skirt doesn't go with that blouse.
To tinker	with	Enredar con	Sam is so happy when he can tinker with the car.
WITHOUT		Sin
To go	without	Pasar sin	I hate going without mustard in my sandwich.
To do	without	Pasar sin Preferir evitar	If you are prepared to do without a break in the summer, we could have a really good skiing holiday in winter. I could do without the sarcasm.

